

49th Annual FHAW Fall Conference

The Fall Conference will officially open the morning of Friday, October 11, 2024 with an informal gathering at 9 am in the Menominee Casino Resort and Convention Center for a welcome message and any other necessary comments before loading the bus to begin our day long cultural and historical tours.

The tours first stops are at the Menominee Logging Museum, the largest and most complete logging museum in the United States and the Menominee Indian Tribe's Cultural Museum, the focal point of Menominee culture, history and language. We'll have a box lunch that includes a 6 inch sub sandwich, fruit cup, cookies, pickle spear and soda at the logging camp, before starting the afternoon tours.

The afternoon will include a forest tour followed by a visit to the College of the Menominee Nation for a tour of the Applications in Sustainable Development Institute Program, Forest Gardening, and Phenology Trail. The bus will return to the casino by 4 pm.

The conference poster session will open for viewing at 5 pm, along with the cash bar and social hour. Serving of our dinner, which includes roasted chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, vegetables, dinner roll, and dessert is planned for 6 pm.

Dinner will be followed with the opening presentation, Building Connections and Relationships through the Menominee Theoretical Model of Sustainability. Our speaker, Jennifer Gauthier, is the director of the Sustainable Development Institute at the College of the Menominee Nation.

Saturday's schedule is set for multiple lectures. During the morning session we'll listen to three presentations; Menominee Before European Contact, presented by Dr. David Overstreet, Ancient Gardening, presented by Jeff Grignon; and Termination and Restoration of the Menominee Tribe, presented by Doug Cox.

After lunch, there will be a final lecture, Applying Chief Oshkosh's Vision to Modern Forest Management Practice, presented by Ron Waukau. Then a panel made up of the pre-conference webinar and conference speakers, will provide a closing discussion about "The Beginning of Change—Tribal History, Tribal Treaties and the Menominee Forest Story."
