

Seeking participants for a historical study of call-in radio

If you listened to, called-in to, or worked for, call-in radio in the 1950s, 60s, or 70s, I am interested in interviewing you for my PhD project entitled "Long Time, First Time: A History of Calling-In in the United States and Canada." Interviews would be either in-person or virtual, and would take in between 45 and 90 minutes. Participation is entirely voluntary.

Sadie Couture, PhD Candidate Department of Art History and Communication Studies, McGill University
sadie.couture@mail.mcgill.ca

McGill