

Voices for Peace Institute presents

Sami Rasouli

Sami Rasouli is an Iraqi-American, who has lived in the United States for about 30 years – a very successful restaurateur from Minneapolis, owner of Sinbad's Restaurant. He is the founder of the Muslim Peacemaker Teams.

Sami will speak about the situation on the ground in Iraq today; the U.S. pull-out from the cities; the return of the giant oil companies; political divisions; the upcoming elections in January, 2010; and the prospects for U.S. withdrawal and a substantive change in U.S policy toward Iraq.

Where: Unitarian Universalist Congregation

(421 S. Farwell St. Eau Claire)

When: Tuesday, Nov. 24th at 7pm

What: Speech on the War on Iraq from the perspective of an Iraqi citizen

"The human journey is a test, a challenge, and we have only one lifetime to prove whether we can try to get past the hate and look for the goodness."

- Sami Rasouli
